At 1200 on 15 April 1954, a group of Soviet KRONSHITADT-Class naval vessels, [REDACTED] was sighted about 20 nautical miles from Liepaja. The vessels steered a northeasterly course. A comparatively large motor boat passed alongside each boat of the group, obviously transmitting orders. The vessels rolled black drums over the stern which subsequently were fired on with light guns. During the maneuvers, submarine [REDACTED] executed diving exercises. KRONSHITADT-Class vessel [REDACTED] was observed close to submarine [REDACTED]
